Action Required Provider News and Announcements

Home State Health values your partnership and understands the importance of clear and concise communication. Therefore, in order to provide important updates such as policy changes, billing and claims information, and quarterly newsletters in a timely and efficient manner, Home State is moving to electronic communication email only. Home State will no longer send notices via fax. Please register to receive email notifications using the link below. Registration is required even if you are currently receiving email notices from your Provider Representative or by fax, or both. When registering your email, it is important to list each and every TIN you represent, as communications will be specific to the provider type and services represented. If you wish to continue to receive notices from Home State Health you will need to register by using the link below.

Please share this information with colleagues in your practice or health system who will need to register as well.

As always, provider notices are posted on our website at www.HomeStateHealth.com under "News and Announcements".
